Festival closes a terrific Summer of 2015

With the trees gradually changing colour, Artistic Producer Laurel Smith is looking back on another successful summer season at the Classic Theatre Festival.

“It’s been a terrific summer, with thousands of tourists coming from all over Ontario, Quebec, and various U.S. states to enjoy our professional theatre here in Perth,” says Smith. “We’ve heard great things from our restaurant and accommodation partners about lots of people staying overnight and taking in lunch and dinner before and after our mainstage shows.” [\[more\]](#)

Travel Writer lauds Walking Tours

One of Canada’s leading travel writers, Chris Ryall, came to Perth and enjoyed the Classic Theatre Festival’s historic walking tours, both Perth

through the Ages presentation of The Maid and the Merchant, as well as The Lonely Ghosts Walk. “Affordable and entertaining theatre with a distinct local twist as the productions take you past Perth’s vast collection of architectural styles.” [\[more...\]](#)

Ontario Summer Theatre blog praises Perth and the Classic Theatre Festival

I do love me a two-lane highway. There's the hypnotic rhythm of undulating ribbons of road, hugging outcroppings of granite, gentle curves opening to sudden expanses of crystalline water. Villages, hamlets, crossroads stacking one upon the other as we do the speed limit cha cha: 80 -> 60 -> 80 -> 60. [\[more\]](#)
